Hector Cat About Town Notorious Gossip

Mike: "One of the secrets of strength is plenty of onions."
Pat: "An' how could anyone have onions and keep it a secret?"

Employer: "While I'm away you will take your orders from the mistress, Giles."
Gardener: "Yes, sir—same as if you was at home."

"Is your new son-in-law nicely off?"

"He can just about keep my daughter in gloves. I pay for everything else."

"Then he deceived you as to his circumstances?"

"No, I remember he merely asked for her hand."

Debt Collector: "Shall I call tomorrow?"

Young Lawyer: "Twice, if convenient! I have an idea that folks think you are a client."

"What was it induced you to buy a house in such a lonesome region?"

"One of the best real estate men in the business."

Prospective Buyer: "I want to buy a home way out in the country, at least a mile from the nearest neighbour."

Agent: "Oh, I see, you want to practice the simple life?"

Prospective Buyer: "No, the saxophone."

An old German was being cross-examined on the witness stand as to the position of a door, window, etc., and the general interior arrangement of a house.

"And now, sir," said the lawyer, "describe to the jury just how the stairs run in that house."

The man looked dazed and scratched his head for a minute before attempting to reply. "You want to know how der stairs run?" he repeated.

THE KING STUDIED

MR. SICKERT'S TASK

London, July 22.

Mr. Sickert's full-length portrait of the King at the summer exhibition at the Leicester Galleries is surely the most unconventional royal portrait of a monarch ever painted. He presents King Edward in Grenadier uniform coming out of a building, carrying his busby before him like a bouquet, his legs look almost impossibly thin in their foreshortening as he walks. The artist must have consulted photographs, as he did in the portrait of the late King George. He makes no fuss about the assistance of photography. No more did Degas. The great Turner was intensely curious about that new discovery in his time, and would not keep out of the studio of one of the pioneer photographers. Mr. Sickert is a master and can use anything he has a mind to and blend it into the alchemy of his art. He makes one think of Swinburne's line about Burns: He made the cup from which he quaffed. Shine like a planet fore and aft.

It is a delightfully exciting picture, and an extraordinarily convincing portrait of the King, although it is transposed out of realism. The pale pink of the King's scarlet tunic is as far from the real scarlet of that garment as the almost colourless face is from flesh. But it is all of a piece in its relation of tones, charming in colour, and strangely lifelike, and, for all its summariness, a fine psychological study of King Edward in the first year of his reign.

TIN CONTROL PROBLEM

London Journal's Suggestion

London, Aug. 10.

Advocating continuance of tin restriction, opposition to which has now dwindled down to dealers on the Metal Exchange, the "Times" makes the startling suggestion to go on with unlimited production if the price reaches a certain figure, but a definite percentage of restriction when the price falls below a certain level. This, the "Times" continues, will provide consumers and dealers a basis of calculation, while at the same time it will result in safeguarding consumers.

THE HAPPY STATE

THE SULTAN OF JOHORE

London, July 25.

When the Sultan of Johore was received by Mr. Roosevelt a year ago the President made no attempt to conceal his ignorance of the whereabouts of the Malayan State.

The Sultan, who speaks perfect English, was hurt. "I am the ruler of a very small State," he said, but I balance my Budget and I have no national debt."

The statement was exact. The official figures just published show that at the end of 1935 Johore had no public debt and a surplus of over £3,000,000.

The surplus would have been £500,000 more but for the Sultan's gift to the Singapore Base. This was paid out of the annual revenue.

BEST EQUIPPED EMPIRE SOLDIERS

The Sultan of Johore might have made another boast.

If the Brigade of Guards were advancing alongside the Johore Military Forces, with both in full service kit, first prize for the most efficient equipment would go to the Johore forces.

On the recommendation of their British military advisers they have just been supplied with new equipment that has taken 10 years of exhaustive experiment in England to bring to perfection.

The new equipment, known as the Braithwaite, gives comfort, reduced weight, and a balance unknown before to the marching soldier. It has not yet been supplied to British forces, because, I understand, a vigilant Treasury insists that the British Army shall wear out what it has. The design of the present Brigade of Guards equipment dates back to 1908.

AVIATION

COL. LINDBERGH ON AIR PERIL

'DEFENSIVE WAR ENDED'

Berlin, July 23.
An appeal for "intelligence rather than force" as a basis of security was made to-day by Col. Lindbergh at a lunch given in his honour by the Aero Club of Berlin.

"Aviation," said Col. Lindbergh, "has abolished defensive warfare. It is no longer possible to protect our families with an army."

"As I travel in Europe I am more than ever impressed with the seriousness of the situation which confronts us. We must look for a new type of security. It must be dynamic, not static."

"It requires more intellect to operate an aeroplane than to dig a trench or fire a rifle. Our responsibility in creating a great force of destruction may be relieved by knowing that we have moved power further away from ignorance."

Col. Lindbergh visited the German Air Ministry this morning, and was received, in the absence of Gen. Goering, by Bayreuth, by Gen. Milch Chief of Staff.

He is accompanied by his wife. His little son, Jon Morrow Lindbergh, has been left in England in charge of a nurse.

AIR LIAISON WITH THE ARMY

One torpedo-spotter-reconnaissance biplane, the Blackburn Shark, of which large numbers are being supplied to the Fleet Air Arm, an Avro Anson general reconnaissance monoplane, and the new Westland army cooperation monoplane made up the complement of military aeroplanes engaged in the flying programme. The Westland machine is the product of a company which has built hundreds of aeroplanes for "general purpose" service flying and

MRS. MOLLISON ON WOMEN

'MY CANDID OPINION'

London, July 18.
"I admit that I am not a feminist," said Mrs. Amy Mollison in her presidential address at the annual dinner of the Women's Engineering Society at Sheffield last night.

"Women never have been up to any good, and my candid opinion of the species in general, obtained from a course in history at Sheffield University, is that they have created little and destroyed much. It is the great destroyers who go down in history and the Delians and the Dubarrys who immediately spring to my mind as examples."

"My opinion of women engineers is even worse. I do not know of one who will, even if she knows how, put right the plumbing of the gramophone while her husband sits back in his chair and smokes his pipe."

Referring to women's chance in the future of aviation, Mrs. Mollison said that every field was open to the right woman as it was to the right man. The trouble, was that there were so few of the right women. Women were just awakening to their possibilities.

army liaison work. It is a two-seat, high-wing, craft powered with a Mercury radial engine and fitted with Handley Page automatic wing slots and flaps to give the slow landing speed and ability to ascend from small fields which are essential in an army cooperation aeroplane. The pilot has excellent outlook. He sits in an enclosed cabin just in front of the leading edge of the wings; the roof is transparent and there are large windows at the sides. Both the pilot's and the observer's compartments are heated and can be quickly and easily opened, giving the crew a degree of comfort and space equal to that found in a good civil aeroplane.

NEW AUTOGIRO Vertical Take-Off With 50 H.P.

SINGLE-SEATER TO COST £500

A SMALL AUTOGIRO, HAVING ONLY TWO ROTOR BLADES AND USING A 50 H.P. ENGINE, HAS BEEN LANDING AND TAKING OFF AMONG THE CLUMPS OF GORSE ON HOUNSLOW HEATH DURING THE PAST WEEK.

This sort of country has been chosen for its exploits as conclusive proof that any clear space big enough for a landing is also big enough for this little aeroplane to take off again.

It is reported as capable of lifting vertically at the take-off to a sufficient height to clear immediate obstacles, whereas the earlier type of Autogiro needed a take-off run and climbed at an acute angle, so that it was occasionally unable to get out of confined spaces into which it had descended without difficulty.

The new model not only embodies the device for vertical take-off which Señor de la Cierwa described last year, but it submits to the public in a form which may make the Autogiro available to a much larger number of people. This machine has been developed by Messrs. G. and J. Weir, Glasgow, and is fitted with a new four-cylinder engine which has been designed for it. Its rotors have a diameter of 28ft. and it is capable of a forward speed of 80 miles an hour. It carries petrol for a flight of 2½ hours' duration and it will probably be sold at £500. It is a single-seater using a normal aeroplane fuselage with flat sides. Its tail unit consists of a tailplane and three vertical fins. Control is exercised by tilting the rotor standard.

NEW ROTOR DEVICE

The secret of the vertical take-off lies in the way in which the rotors are hinged and in the arrangement of those hinges, so that the blades, as they pass over those parts of the circle in which they develop no lift, may diminish their drag. It depends also on a device for keeping the blades at a non-lifting angle during the period of their acceleration before the take-off. The rotors, driven by gears from the engine, are accelerated on the ground to a rate of 350 revolutions a minute, and, at the moment of take-off, are decelerated from the engine and simultaneously allowed to take up the lifting angle by the simple process of pressing a button. The rate of rotation at flying speed is 210 revolutions a minute.

The quality of automatic adjustment which is claimed for the new rotor mechanism has the additional advantage of preserving a constant rotor speed in the air, whether the forward speed of the aeroplane is fast or slow. This makes lift much less dependent on forward speed and allows the almost vertical descent, which is of great value in forced landings. This has always been valuable attribute of the Autogiro, and the addition to it of the power to take off vertically suggests the arrival of an aeroplane which, even in the hands of trained amateurs, may be free of the conventional aerodrome, and, may, literally be able to operate from a tennis court or field of similar dimensions.

The undercarriage in this model stands out from the sides of the

LORD WILLINGDON'S TROPHY FOR AIRMEN

Simla, July 17.

A challenge trophy has been presented by Lord Willingdon, the former Viceroy, to the Aero Club of India and Burma, for the most meritorious flying performance during each year carried out in any part of the world by an Indian national or any person trained in India, and holding a current Indian licence. The winner must have been resident in this country for six months during the calendar year for which the award is made.

The first award will be made on December 31 of this year, but future presentations will be made in May for the performance of the previous calendar year. Winners will hold the trophy for one year.

100TH ATLANTIC CROSSING

BY AIR FRANCE

London July 28.

The 100th flight in a westerly direction and the 99th flight on the easterly run across the South Atlantic were completed by Air France on Tuesday. These mail flights were made by two of the Latécoère four-engine flying boats. The westerly crossing between Dakar and Port Natal was made in just under 20 hours and the easterly crossing in 18hr. 18min.

All letters carried on the 100th flight bear a special cancellation date-stamp to commemorate the event. A new issue of two official postage stamps was also made by the French Post Office, the denominations being 1.50fr. and 10fr. respectively.

Fuselage to give a wide track, and is rather like the end of a bedstead with telescopic legs.

ALCOHOL'S EFFECT ON THE TIRED CAR DRIVER

PROFESSOR WANTS MORE RESEARCH

Sir Joseph Barcroft, Professor of Physiology at Cambridge University to-day appealed to doctors for more research into the effects of alcohol on the tired motorcar driver.

He was speaking to delegates to the British Medical Association Conference at Oxford who were the guests at breakfast of the National Temperance League.

Sir Joseph, who was a member of the committee appointed by the B.M.A. to study the relation of alcohol to road accidents said that the committee found that even in moderate quantities alcohol had a definitely "adverse effect," though taken some hours before driving.

"I think," he added, "that it will be conceded by all thinking people that the statement is true but what is the effect of alcohol on the tired man?"

"One member of the committee took the view that alcohol might be regarded as beneficial to the tired man and in the general run of practice one finds a great many doctors who take that view."

"But, the fact is I believe that we do not know. The amount of research that is being done has only been done in relation to the aver-

INVISIBLE RAY TO TRAP THE SPEEDING CAR

There's news for motorists about speed, lights and those electric horns.

Trickiest is the one about speed. It is going to cause fluttering the hearts of the young man in the fast sports car.

It's a hidden policeman. He gets the speed at which you are travelling—and there's no chance of his being mistaken.

He is, in fact, an invisible ray. And Mr. Hore-Bellisha is already very keenly interested in it.

He was, in fact, "trapped" by the ray (which is the invention of Mr. O. C. Scrimgeour, clerk of Cheshire County Council), when he opened the Shotwick-Frodsham road yesterday. He was jocularly told he was exceeding the limit and that his speed was forty miles an hour.

Two invisible ray apparatus are put up, one at each limit of a measured distance. The ray is thrown across the road; the car breaks each in turn as it passes. The time taken in the two breaks gives the speed.

age person and not to the tired man. It would seem to me well to go into this matter more thoroughly."

A FOURTH "R"

Sir Joseph said he trembled to think of the number of people who were knocked down and hurt on the roads, and yet the remarkable fact was not how many accidents there were but how few there were. This was a tribute to the amount of care and skill shown by the drivers.

Sir Ewen Maclean, a former president of the B.M.A., said: "Can there be, on the average, any doubt at all that the absorption of alcohol does develop a lack of perspective in reading, writing and arithmetic, and, if 'X' may add a fourth 'R', read sense?"

MOTOR JOTTINGS

MOTOR NOTES FROM GREAT BRITAIN

A Trade Ambassador

After a tour of nearly six months duration, which took him round the world, Mr. W. E. Rootes recently returned to England with a better knowledge than ever of local trade conditions in the many places he visited. He made his tour as Vice-President of the Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders, and there is no doubt that his reports on present conditions in the Overseas markets will prove extremely valuable, as will also the personal contacts he has had the good fortune to make.

It will be remembered that a previous world tour made by Mr. Rootes in 1927 led to very satisfactory developments in connection with the export of British cars to certain parts of the Empire.

PROMINENT DESIGNER

Recently elected as a full Member of the Institution of Mechanical Engineers, Mr. E. G. Grinham chief engineer of the Standard Motor Co., has a number of outstanding automobile designs to his credit. Before his present appointment, which he was held for over 15 years, he was with the Humber-Elmham-Commer group, where he worked in collaboration with Capt. J. P. Black, now, of course, Standard's managing director.

Over 28,000 cars from the Canley factory, by the way, have been delivered already this season.

ANOTHER DIESEL DEVELOPMENT

Diesel engines are nowadays in general use in lorries, buses, tractors, road rollers and agricultural machinery of all types; they are already being fitted in private cars, and it is safe to assume that before long they will appear in leading manufacturers' normal programmes. But the latest development is in connection with the mechanical horse. It is understood that very shortly a Perkins Diesel-engine Scammell mechanical horse of the 6-ton type will be available for test purposes in comparison with a petrol-engine vehicle of the same type, and the results should prove instructive.

A MOBILE SHOW ROOM

Mobile showrooms are not new, but an outstanding feature of the vehicle employed by the General Electric Co., England, is that every article displayed in it actually works. Cookers, washers, and all sorts of lamps, are but some of the articles it contains, and they derive their power from a 3-kilowatt generator coupled to the engine and supplying a controlled output of 230 volts to a central control and switchboard.

The present vehicle is a Leyland Tiger, and the interior also contains a well equipped office communicating by a sliding door with the actual showroom nearly 17ft.

WHEN WORK IS DONE

More and more of the large manufacturing concerns are laying out sports grounds and building clubhouses for their employees, realising the value of healthy outdoor recreation. The new Firestone clubhouse, in addition to its dressing rooms and lounges, is to possess a cinema projector room for showing "talkies."

At Ipswich the employees of Ransomes, Sims & Jefferies, well known in the trolley bus and agricultural implement world have become the proud possessors of a fine sports pavilion, the gift of their chairman, Alderman E. C. Ransome, to commemorate the 50 years of his connection with the firm and the 50 years his father had been a member. A particularly happy collaboration made the new building possible, showing the fine spirit existing between the individual workpeople and the management; for, while Mr. Ransome provided all the materials for the structure, the members of the Athletic Club found the necessary labour—a small task in the case of a building containing a dance hall, changing and bath rooms, billiards room, kitchen etc., and one representing all the spare time or many of the employees.

THE TWO LONDONS

London, Ontario, is following the lead of London, England, in transport matters. The capital of the Empire is steadily replacing its huge fleet of petrol buses with A.E.C.-built Diesel vehicles and, within a few years, will have over 4,000 oil-engined single and double-deckers in daily service.

The Canadian London, in its turn, has just put into commission its first two oil-engined A.E.C. "Rangers," operated by the London Street Railway Co. The bodies are locally built and are designed to accommodate 25 passengers. Before being put into service the first "Ranger" representing the introduction of Diesel traction to this public, was greeted by members of the City Council and officials, who rode in it over its projected route.

In New Zealand, by the way, a company has just been formed to control the interests of John I. Theinveroff & Co. Mr. C. A. Burgess, formerly representative of the company in the Dominion, has been appointed general manager.

NOTICE.

The public is hereby notified that under H.K. Ordinance No. 2 of 1935 the British Imperial gallon of 9 lbs. is the legal measure in the Colony. This quantity should be demanded when buying a gallon or a refund asked for in respect of any less quantity supplied. Messrs. C. O. Wakefield & Co., Ltd., being British—sell by the imperial gallon but other oil Companies have adopted the American or wine gallon of 7½ lbs. There is a difference of about 20% in the quantities and this should not be overlooked. Although Castrol is the proved aristocrat of lubricating oils it is sold at the same price of ordinary motor oils. Castrol gives you the correct quality and quantity.

"IN LESS THAN TWO WEEKS
CUTICURA CLEARED MY SKIN. IT'S
THE BEST TREATMENT
EVER USED"

The Cuticura Method

1. Cleanse the skin twice a day with Cuticura Soap.
2. Use Cuticura Ointment in conjunction with the soap.

This simple, economical treatment has proved its value to millions of women all over the world. The luxuriant, mildly antiseptic lather of Cuticura Soap cleanses the skin to the very depths of the pores, washes away deeply embedded dust and grime, clears and softens the skin. And to clear the skin of pimples, enlarged pores, ugly red, coarse patches, irritating spots, apply Cuticura Ointment direct on the affected skin a few moments before washing with the soap.

JAPANESE ARMAMENTS

A 75 Per Cent.
Increase

London, July 18.

An armaments programme involving the expenditure of approximately £175,000,000 in the next six years has been submitted to the Japanese Cabinet this week. The figures, which imply an increase of over 75 per cent. in the Army estimates, are startling enough; but they can scarcely have surprised Mr. Hirota, though they may have alarmed Dr. Baba, whose predecessor, Mr. Takahashi, was murdered by the mutineers on February 26. The Japanese Prime Minister had his warning so long ago as March 10, the thirty-first anniversary of the victory of Mukden. On that occasion a pamphlet written in the War Office was widely circulated by the Reservists' Associations. It enlarged on the great increase of the Russian forces in the Far East, which are now little inferior in strength to the whole Japanese Army. It demanded an expansion of the Japanese Army, Navy, and Air Force which would enable the island Empire to fulfil its destiny and dominate Eastern Asia, in the teeth, if necessary, of the Red Army and of the Fleets of the great naval Powers. The Navy is preparing a Budget which provides for a heavy programme of new construction, and the creation of an Air Ministry is under discussion. Such are the new demands of the fighting Services, which absorbed over 45 per cent. of the Budget of 1935-36 but remained unsatisfied. In former years they encountered resistance within the Cabinet. They will encounter less now, for although the ring-leaders in the recent revolt have been executed, the ideals which inspired them are to all appearance as strong as ever among the hosts of officers who are partisans of the form of State Socialism known as the "Shuwa" Restoration Movement.

THE NEW DOCTRINE

In itself the new doctrine, as our Tokyo Correspondent recently explained, is merely a Japanese adaptation of Marxism. It was not taught by General Mazaki, the guiding spirit of Japanese military education until his sudden dismissal a year ago. But the General's concepts of the divine mission of the Japanese nation and the necessity of direct rule by a divinely descended Emperor gave his pupils the idea of a movement, or, as they would say, a return towards a more authoritarian State; and economic discontent did the rest. The same aspirations that moved the Left wing of the German Nazis, until the Führer crushed them in a night, are leading the younger elements in the Japanese Army along the same road. But they are too numerous and too powerful to be destroyed as were the Nazi mutineers. As serving officers they possess an unrivalled authority and prestige; and when General Terauchi warned Mr. Hirota that a Cabinet based upon Liberalism and "laissez faire" could not deal with the national emergency he was simply affirming the conviction of most Japanese soldiers and of the multitudes of civilians who take their political "credo" from that inspired personage the "spokesman of the War Office."

And so it goes on. Faced by these demands, the Japanese Government must either borrow or increase taxation. They will almost certainly have to do both, and it is hard to see how they can obey the Army's behests without inflicting worse hardships on the millions of small farmers whom the advocates of the "Shuwa" Restoration would protect. Sooner rather than later the Army and Navy will have to face the financial consequences of the policy which they have dictated to the politicians—a policy of aggression on the mainland and of non-cooperation with the two leading naval Powers. They will probably be able to keep their own extremists in order, but there are many indications that they may be driven by their own dogmas to choose between political defeat or political adventure. The first alternative is impossible for men of their temper. The second may lead ultimately to war; but its more immediate consequence is likely to be an acceleration of the movement towards some kind of State Socialism, planned first and foremost in the interests of national defence against the dangers which Nationalist-Messianism has created and is multiplying.

A PIRATES' VICTIM

Ends Adventures—To Become Wife

London, July 20.

Sailed around the world before the mast at seventeen, kidnapped by Chinese pirates, injured in a ship collision. Those are a few of the adventures of Mrs. W. E. Bullock, a French-Canadian, writes a correspondent.

On Saturday she was married to Mr. W. E. Bullock, of Coventry, at the Chelsea register office, and now she will settle down to married life.

"Before I was seventeen," Mrs. Bullock, an attractive young brunette, told me, "I embarked on a Norwegian tramp steamer as stewardess. I didn't know the destination of the vessel, but I was finally landed in Germany."

"In 1932 I embarked from Hong Kong on a boat owned by a Chinese company. The only other white woman on board was an American missionary. There also boarded the ship fifteen well-dressed young Chinese. They looked like students."

"On the second morning I was awakened by the barking of the captain's dog and then I heard numerous shots. I hurried up on deck to find that the fifteen young Chinese had seized the ship, imprisoned the captain and wireless operator, and that we were their prisoners."

After painting the funnels black and painting out the name of the ship the Chinese sailed the ship into Blas Bay, famous as the lair of pirates.

CHASED BY DESTROYER

"I managed to hide a bottle of brandy," continued Mrs. Bullock, "and as the missionary was upset, I gave it to her. It was the first time in her life that she had tasted liquor, but she said she liked it. 'I managed to hide my jewellery and money in the wash basin, though.'"

The pirates took Mr. Bullock's gramophone and, levelling a revolver at her, they made her play it for them as they did not know how to use it.

For four days, they were kept prisoners and during this time they lived on tea and biscuits as the pirates took all the food.

"On the fifth day," Mrs. Bullock continued, "the pirates seized five wealthy Chinese merchants and deserted the ship."

"Our ship then sent out an S.O.S. and a destroyer gave chase to the pirates."

Mrs. Bullock was injured in the collision between the Esbjerg and the Princess Juliana in the North Sea last year. She has lived in Japan, China, Java, Malay Straits and Canada and has been twice around the world.

"But all that kind of thing is over now," concluded Mrs. Bullock a little wistfully.

"I should think so!" confirmed Mr. Bullock.

FIFTY YEARS AFTER

London, July 21.

Among the 380 members of the Order of the Scottish Clans of America who arrived at the Clyde yesterday from America was one in his 80th year, who has not been in his native Dundee for 50 years. But he is reported as having said in an interview:—"I've been that long away I don't know if I'll ken anybody in Dundee." If he has retained his memory as well as he has his accent he should not feel an alien in a strange land for very long.

INNERPEFFRAY LIBRARY

London, July 18.

The Innerpeffray Library in Perthshire, the first public library to be provided in Scotland, is in future to be maintained as a place of antiquarian interest according to a scheme framed by the Educational Endowment Commissioners. The third Lord Madartie, proprietor of Innerpeffray and brother-in-law of the great Marquess of Montrose, prepared a will in 1680 in which he stated that he had "erected a library" for the benefit and encouragement of young students. He assigned for the purposes of the trust 3000 merks, which was later increased to 5000 merks. The library was the subject of an article in "The Glasgow Herald" of August 28 1935.

SQUADRON TO BE KEPT IN EUROPEU.S. TO PROTECT NATIONALS

Washington, July 22
The Secretary of State, Mr.
Cordell Hull, indicated at his Press conference this afternoon that the American naval squadron that was maintained in European waters may shortly be re-established.
No decision, he insisted, has yet been taken in the matter, but it is felt, I understand, that political disturbances of the kind now shaking Spain make it desirable to provide means of protecting American citizens.
Failure to take action of this kind during the Italian invasion of Abyssinia, when the United States Minister at Addis Ababa and members of his staff were compelled to take refuge in the British Legation, aroused considerable criticism.
Mr. Hull said that the battleship
Oklahoma and the new cruiser
Quincy were ordered to Spanish waters yesterday afternoon following a conference with the Acting
Secretary of the Navy, Adm.
Stanley, and without consulting
President Roosevelt, who is now cruising off the New England coast.
He explained that these vessels would not send landing parties ashore, but would simply take Americans aboard if necessary.

FORMER SQUADRON

From the end of the war in 1929 the United States maintained a naval squadron in Europe. Originally it included one or two battleships, but was later reduced to a cruiser, as flagship, and a fleet of destroyers.
As there are no American bases on this side of the Atlantic the squadron was dependent on the hospitality of foreign ports, chiefly British and French. Graves and was its usual anchor-ages in British waters.

TROUBLE FOR TWO

A brand new romantic team, starring Robert Montgomery and Rosalind Russell.

A narrative, rich with thrilling adventures, taken from a story, "The Suicide Club," by that old master, Robert Louis Stevenson. A strong supporting cast including Frank Morgan, Reginald Owen, Louis Hayward, David Holt, Virginia Weider and others.

That's "Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's" new production, "Trouble For Two," now showing at the King's Theatre.

J. Walter Ruben, fresh from his successes, "Public Hero" and "Riffraff," directed the picture.

Filled with the colour, dash and romance of the 1830 period, the picture deals with the adventures of a prince who sets out to enjoy life for a month before he marries a princess who was once his bitter enemy during childhood days. He has not seen her since he was nine.

The princess learns of his trip and sets out to find him, not because she is in love with him, but because she wonders if he is the coward he was during his childhood days.

Montgomery and Frank Morgan, as his aid, become involved in "The Suicide Club" of which Owen is the president. Montgomery learns that the president is the same man who tried to overthrow his father's kingdom. The president in turn set out to kill Montgomery.

After failing several times, he sets a trap for the prince by challenging him to a duel. Montgomery accepts, but when he arrives at the appointed place he finds that the president intends to murder him in cold blood.

But Miss Russell, who by this time has revealed her true name to Montgomery, arranges to have Montgomery's friends follow him to the duelling ground. They cover the president's men and the duel goes on.

After a long and fierce battle, Montgomery beats the president and literally duels him into an open grave that the president had ordered to be dug for Montgomery's body.

The picture closes as Montgomery and Miss Russell are formally introduced in court for the "first" time since they were children.

Montgomery, fresh from his triumph in "Petticoat Fever," is the dashing and daring prince, while Miss Russell is the equally adventurous princess.

DRIFT FENCE

Zane Grey, whose Western tales entertain young and old with their thrilling action, is the author of "Drift Fence," which Paramount has filmed, and which is showing at the Alhambra Theatre. Featured in this outdoor drama are Larry "Buster" Crabbe, Katherine DeMille, Tom Keene, Benny Baker, Glenn Erikson, Stanley Andrews and Richard Cagle.

Arizona, the cattle-rustling law-defying days is the setting of "Drift Fence," which concerns the adventures of a Texas Ranger in pursuit of a gang of desperadoes who have been stealing cattle in droves, and who resist all efforts of a big rancher to enclose his vast property.

"BORDERTOWN"

AT THE ORIENTAL THEATRE

Paul Muni is booked for the Oriental Theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday in "Bordertown," a Warner Brothers production that is said to be the most colourful and the most powerful drama in which he has yet appeared.

The plot is crammed with thrilling action, intense dramatic situations, tremendous suspense and a most unusual triangular romance. In "Bordertown," Muni has the role of a foreign youth fired with inordinate ambition, who drudges at hard labour all day and studies law at night, only to be disbarred for attacking an opposing lawyer.

Dauntless, he goes to a border town, where he rises to riches and power in the community as the proprietor of the most fashionable night club.

Two women play a vital part in his life, one a fiery adventuress, the wife of his partner. The role is played by Bette Davis, who is so much in love with the handsome youth she murders her husband in the hope of winning his affections.

Margaret Lindsay has the other leading feminine role, as a rich and bored American society woman who takes a passing fancy to him.

There is an exceptionally strong supporting cast, including Eugene Palette, Gavin Gordon and Robert Barrat.

ANYTHING GOES

Bing Crosby says it with fresh panache in his new Paramount picture, "Anything Goes," which is now at the Star Theatre.

The singing star plays the part of a happy-go-lucky romantic fellow who comes aboard an ocean liner, his heart aflame for a beautiful stranger whom he imagines to be in danger from gunmen.

He furthers his romance by painting words of adoration on smokestacks and lifeboats. A passenger or a ship's officer must then be induced to be the unwitting messenger of his affections to the fair one by leaning against the paint, and having the back of the imprudent jacket serve as a moving billboard.

Others in the cast of this screen presentation of the Broadway stage hit are Ethel Merman, Charlie Ruggles, Ida Lupino, and Grace Bradley. The songs and lyrics are by Cole Porter and others, the direction by Lewis Milestone.

MEN OF 60 FOR DEFENCE OF BRITAIN

NEW COMPANIES TO BE FORMED

London, July 21.

The Royal Defence Corps is to be replaced by National Defence companies of the Territorial Army, open to men between the ages of 45 and 60.

This was announced by Mr. A. Duff Cooper, Secretary for War, in the House of Commons to-day.

Mr. Duff Cooper said: "It seems to me to be anomalous that the responsibility for home defence should be shared by the Territorial Army and the Royal Defence Corps, a body not fully identified with it."

"I have decided, therefore, that the Royal Defence Corps shall be replaced by national defence companies of the Territorial Army."

ENROLMENT IN AUTUMN
"These will be formed on a county or city basis, and each will be linked with Territorial infantry battalions."

Enrolment will start on September 2 and will be open to ex-members of his Majesty's forces, normally between the ages of 45 and 60, who express themselves willing to be commissioned or enlisted for home service in a local national defence company if required.

"The role of the new force will be to protect important points in Great Britain when war is threatened or has actually broken out. Members of the force will not be called up until these conditions arise, nor will they be called up on account of civil disturbance."

"A total of 8450 officers and men distributed among the various counties will, be required, and I have every confidence that they will be no difficulty in securing this number of men in a very short time."

CHINESE STEAMER MISSING

NO TRACE OF SHIP UNDER GOVERNMENT CHARTER

Shanghai, Aug. 8.

Efforts were still being continued yesterday afternoon by the management of the Lee Ping Steamship Co., Avenue Edward VII, to locate its ss. Chang Teh, which was recently chartered by the Nanking Government on a voyage to Kwangtung and which has not been heard of since last Saturday afternoon.

A total of six Chinese ships, two of them were the Hsing Pu and the Tai Hsuen, left Nanking for Kwangtung the same day, and, except the Chang Teh, all have safely arrived in Kwangtung.

Owners of the Chang Teh received last Saturday a message from the master of the ship, reporting she was proceeding off the Fukien coast, but, since then, nothing further has been heard of the vessel. The Chang Teh carried a crew of over 60 men.—(N.C.D.N.)

RECEIVER FOR MUDIE'S

"UNABLE TO PAY THEIR RENT," SAYS COUNSEL

London, July 17.

A receiver and manager of Mudie's Library, Limited, was appointed by Mr. Justice Farwell in the Chancery Division to-day.

The application, which was unopposed, was made on behalf of Mr. Charles Spencer Golding, a Debenture-holder.

Mr. Cecil Turner, for Mr. Golding, said "he held £3,000 worth of Debentures out of an issue of £12,500 made by the company."

The interest was in arrears, but the actual ground for the application was that the position of the company was one of great jeopardy.

The Judge: What is the evidence of jeopardy?
Mr. Turner said there was an affidavit showing that the rents of the company's various premises due last June, and amounting to £2,699, had not been paid and that the company had not sufficient funds where-with to pay them.

The company was indebted to unsecured creditors for upwards of £32,000 and many of them were pressing for payment.

"UNABLE TO OPPOSE IT"
Mr. J. S. Roope Reeve, for the company, said he was unable to oppose the appointment being made.

Mr. Justice Farwell appointed Mr. Percy Weiller Straus, chartered accountant, Great Winchester street, E.C., receiver and manager.

Mr. Roope Reeve stated that the company was prepared to treat these proceedings as the trial of the action and submit to the usual accounts and inquiries.

Mr. Justice Farwell said there would be the usual judgment in a debenture-holder's action.

CAREERS FOR UNIVERSITY GRADUATES

London, July 18.

Daringly, Mr. Oliver Stanley yesterday posed the question whether the country is not becoming over-saturated with University education. In 36 years the number of University students has grown from 20,000 to 50,000, and the demand is for more places.

The President of the Board of Education will be assailed by the whole army of those who believe that the University should be within the reach of every child. Of recent years that creed has been in the ascendant, which accounts for the fact that nearly half the students in the higher educational institutions are in receipt of financial help from the State and local authorities.

Are the results commensurate with the effort? Probably not satisfactory answer could be given without very careful investigation into the extent of the demand in the world of affairs for men of the highest academic attainments.

Can, business and the professions absorb all these thousands of graduates? That is the important question, for nothing is more certain than that the highly educated man who cannot find employment becomes a focus of discontent. Mr. Stanley yesterday entered his caveat against concentration upon vocational training.

Assuredly, if higher education is to develop at the present rate the trend must be to specialisation in study. The older outlets for graduates are over-crowded. Room must be found in business, commerce and manufacture for the surplus. All these occupations will ask from entrants more than skill in higher mathematics or an aptitude for turning out Latin hexameters and Greek iambs.

PROMPT CHASE OF SNATCHER

THIEF'S JUMP INTO HARBOUR

Proceedings at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday were enlivened by Inspector K. W. Andrew, of the Water Police Station, when relating a good story about the bravery of a number of Kowloon children who participated in chasing an alleged thief, and eventually forced him to jump into the harbour in an unavailing effort to escape custody.

"About twenty children joined in the chase," said Insp. Andrew, amid smiles from everyone, including the magistrate. "Only two—both boys aged 12 years—however kept him in sight all the time."

The accused was eventually arrested by a Chinese constable. The two lads, Tony Bayot, of 13, Ashley Road, and John James, of 58, Nathan Road, were congratulated by Mr. E. Himsforth for their good work.

The accused, Chan Cheung Shing, only a lad of 19, pleaded guilty to stealing a necklace and locket, valued $50, from Mrs. M. Sousa, of 22 Johnston Road, ground floor, at Hankow Road near Haiphong Road.

Mrs. Sousa, said Insp. Andrew, was walking along Hankow Road towards Haiphong Road at about 4.45 p.m. on Saturday in company with the Misses B. and L. Place when Chan came up from behind and snatched the necklace and locket from her neck. He ran down a lane behind the Palace Hotel into Ashley Road, then Peking Road across Canton Road to the Kowloon Godowns. The Misses Place, Masters Bayot and James, and a score of children gave immediate chase. Only the two boys were able to keep the accused in sight. Finding that his escape was cut short Chan jumped into the harbour from No. 1 wharf and concealed himself behind a junk. P.C. 0816 arrived on the scene and dragged Chan from the water by means of a rope. The locket and necklace were not recovered.

Chan told the police that he tucked the articles in his girdle and lost them when he jumped in the water.

Defendant, tore complainant's dress at the collar when snatching the necklace.

His Worship commended the two boys for their prompt participation in the chase. "Had it not been for you," he remarked, "the defendant would probably have not been brought to justice. I am very pleased with what you have done."

Addressing Chan, his Worship said: As for you I intend to stop as far as I may these assaults on ladies in this Colony.

Sentence of four months' hard labour with twelve strokes was passed.

Mr. Hugh-Jones said that in view of the circumstances of the case he felt it his duty to oppose most strongly the re-opening of the case. The warrant had been issued on June 24, which was seven weeks ago and therefore any knowledge that the defendants have now they must have had then.

If that were accepted, Mr. Hugh-Jones submitted that it must be done with the greatest of caution in view of the latencies. If the witness had been absent and evidence could not be taken for that reason, then there would be no objection.

His Worship held that the defendants seemed to have deliberately withheld the evidence and he was not disposed to grant the application.

Mr. Schofield then convicted both defendants. He said that he was not satisfied that the mark was not being used in China, he thought that there was evidence to show that it had. On the other hand the mark was an out-of-date one and he would therefore not be too hard on the defendants.

Both defendants were fined. The Paul Battery Company $400 and the Sunlight Company $100. Against each defendant $100 costs was ordered. All the goods seized had to have their labels cut off and destroyed. The batteries to be returned to the defendants.

Pending a possible appeal, a general stay of execution for 14 days was granted.

MERCHANT FACES SERIOUS CHARGE

Alleged Carnal Knowledge

WOMAN ALSO ACCUSED

Wong Sang To, 47 years, described as a quarry merchant, appeared before Mr. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Police Court yesterday charged that between May 24 and July 12 this year he had carnal knowledge of an unmarried girl, Tam Lin, aged 14½ years, at the Ah Chan Boarding House, 9, Pak Hoi Street.

Tsuai Wai Ying, 32, married woman, was charged with procuring the girl for carnal purposes and aiding and abetting Wong Sang To to have carnal knowledge.

Mr. M. W. Lo, of Messrs. Lo and Lo, appeared on behalf of Wong and pleaded not guilty.

The woman, who was not legally represented, stated that the girl was her daughter. An introducer, or go-between, introduced her daughter to Wong to know him.

Insp. E. J. Ellis, of the S.C.A., prosecuted.

Hearing was fixed for Thursday at 2.03 p.m. the defendants being remanded till then on bail of $1,000 each.

CONVICTION REGISTERED

In Trade Mark Case

APPEAL TO BE LODGED

Judgment in the case, wherein the Paul Battery Company and the Sunlight Company were summoned for infringement of the labels of the "Ever-ready batteries," was delivered yesterday by Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Court.

Mr. H. G. Sheldon, instructed by Mr. D. Strelitz appeared for the defendant firms, Mr. Hugh-Jones was for the complainants.

Before Mr. Schofield delivered his judgment, Mr. Sheldon applied for a re-opening of the case stating that since the last hearing he had become possessed of information which showed that the complainant firm had been entirely cognizant of the Paul Battery Company since 1931. Mr. Sheldon then quoted the law which said that action should have been taken before the expiration of one year after the knowledge of such.

Mr. Hugh-Jones said that in view of the circumstances of the case he felt it his duty to oppose most strongly the re-opening of the case. The warrant had been issued on June 24, which was seven weeks ago and therefore any knowledge that the defendants have now they must have had then.

Around the Courts

CAUGHT BY CONSTABLE

Sentence of one month plus two weeks' hard labour was passed by Mr. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday morning on Wong Mun, 39 on charges of theft of an iron door hinge and three iron door bolts from 206, Temple Street, and possession of a hammer, chisel and pair of pliers. Det. Sgt. J. Headridge, of the Yammai C.I.D., stated that at 4.30 on Sunday morning a constable on duty in Temple Street heard noise coming from No. 206. He went round the back and found the defendant in the house.

SUED FOR WAGES

In the Summary Court yesterday, a claim was heard before the Acting-Pulane Judge, Mr. Justice J. J. Hayden, when Keung Kam, Tong Chuen and Fung Tai sued Woo Kam Fook and Pang Hung On, owners of the steam launches, "Tin Sang," "Tin Lee" and "San Tak Hung," for wages due amounting to $101.50.

Mr. C. E. Sanderson appeared for the defendants.

In mapping his defence Mr. Sanderson said that the first plaintiff was rightfully dismissed for misconduct, that the second plaintiff was never employed by the defendants, and Fung Tai left their employ of his own accord.

Owing to the lengthy evidence of the defendants witnesses the hearing had to be adjourned until September 2.

DEATH INQUIRY

Chinese Who Jumped From Hospital's Verandha

A verdict of "death from natural causes" was returned at the Kowloon Magistracy at an enquiry held yesterday into the circumstances attending the death of a Chinese, stated to have come from the country for treatment in the Colony, Named Liu Ching, aged 33 years, who jumped from the first floor of the Kowloon Hospital sometime after 1.30 a.m. on July 12, and sustained two fractured ankles.

Mr. E. Himsforth sat as Coroner and was assisted by the following jurymen: Messrs. A. Sommerfelt (foreman), A. E. Gutierrez, and Law Kwong Chan.

Dr. A. E. Pringle, medical officer of the Kowloon Hospital, said that in his opinion death was due entirely to natural causes. Slight deflation of the heart was due to some unknown chronic toxic condition, while attacks of mania which deceased suffered prior to death, precipitated the failure of an already diseased heart. "Any ordinary person would have suffered very little adverse effect as a result of this fall," said witness in answer to the Coroner.

Dr. N. Y. Ng, of the same hospital, stated that he saw deceased on admission to hospital on July 10 at 8.45 a.m. He was normal mentally, but complained of a pain in the stomach. Shortly after deceased had jumped from the verandha, witness examined him. He was conscious but made rambling statements.

Yim Yip, 27, cooie of the medicine room, testified that deceased was a cousin of his, married, and with a father in the country. Witness met Liu (deceased) in the outpatients' department on July 9, where he complained of stomach trouble. Liu stated that he had come from the country for treatment.

Yi Tip, 29, ward boy, deposed that Liu was together with about 30 other patients under his care. He was on night duty in Block C. He was on night in question and when at about 1.30 a.m. Liu got out of bed for some tea. Liu then went to the wash basin, and returning to the bed, wiped his "hands on the bed clothes."

Witness saw Liu "stand up and shake his coat as if he was hot and then walk out to the open verandha." Witness followed him but before he could get to the stricken man, the latter had already placed his feet over the balustrade, and jumped to the ground.

"I tried to stop him, but I was too late," testified witness. "I saw him below in a squatting position. He got up and walked, and witness rushed downstairs and found Liu already 'strangled' about 25 feet across the lawn. 'I do not owe you any money,' said Liu, when witness approached him."

BOUND OVER

Remarking that the defendant had committed a technical offence, Mr. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday bound over, Lui King Wun, 50, druggist, on a charge of avoiding payment of ferry fare at the Jordan Road wharf.

Defendant explained that his monthly ticket had expired and he was going over to Hong Kong to change the ticket.

Insp. R. Shannon: About 2 p.m. yesterday defendant went through the gate at the Jordan Road ferry wharf and when asked for his ticket he produced a monthly ticket for July which he stated he was going over to change.

His Worship: How many days grace is given?

A ferry official replied that two days was given at the most.

STOLE FROM GARAGE

Leung Fuk, unemployed, remanded from last week on a charge of the theft of a leather suit case containing clothing and a pair of opera glasses from an unnumbered garage in Cox's Road, was yesterday sentenced to one month's hard labour by Mr. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy. Det. Sgt. J. Hunter, of the Yammai C.I.D., stated that complainant was employed as a car cleaner at the garage. At 10.30 a.m. on August 6, he was riding his bicycle in Canton Road near Kansu Street when he saw the defendant carrying a suit case which he recognised as his own. He went over and questioned the defendant. In the meantime Chinese detective sergeant C390 had received information and went to the scene where the defendant admitted theft. The value of the property was $30.70, all of which was recovered.

UNLAWFUL POSSESSION

Ip Ho, 32, unemployed, appeared before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Court yesterday charged with the unlawful possession of a lady's handbag and two mosquito nets, on August 8 at Queens Road East, near Li Chit Street.

Inspector Logan stated that the defendant was arrested in Queen's Road and then said that he had picked the articles up in Johnson Road. Inquiries had been made and though messages had been sent to all stations, there had been no complainant.

Defendant was fined $50 or six weeks.

Serious Case Taken

HEROIN PILLS

Li Choi and Lau Pong, were charged before Mr. S. F. Balfour at the Central Court yesterday with the possession of 71,877 heroin pills and paste capable of making another 5,500 of No. 21. Wing Hing Street, second floor.

Mr. D'Almada Remedios appeared for the first defendant; Mr. F. E. Nash for the second.

R. O. Grimmit was for the prosecution, and stated that when he carried out the raid on the premises on July 15, the two defendants were on the floor.

Li Choi stated that he was employed by a man named Ng Pat, who had offered him work cooking the meals and looking after the doors.

He admitted seeing the articles on the premises but said that he did not know their contents.

Lau Pong stated that he was the tenant of the floor and had sublet the room to a man named Ng Fat.

Mr. Remedios submitted that there had been no evidence to show that the first defendant had knowledge that the contents of the flat were drugs.

R. O. Grimmit pointed out that the defendants had been living at the flat for about seven weeks and was actually there at the time of the arrest. A serious view of the case was asked by R. O. Grimmit who said that the market was being flooded with such drugs, and the only remedy was the maximum penalty.

The first defendant was sentenced to one year and a fine of $2,500 or six months.

The second defendant was discharged.

GOLD MINING INDUSTRY IN P. I.

Haussermann Describes Expansion

The following is an extract of an interview with Judge Haussermann, Senior published in the Cincinnati published in the Cincinnati

Despite the fact that one of the world's greatest industrialists is living within a "stone's throw" of Cincinnati, probably less is known about him in this section of the country than is the case in the great business centres and political capitals of the world.

He is John W. Haussermann, affectionately called the "gold king of the Philippines," who is now in New Richmond, Ohio, on a periodic visit to his ancestral home. With him there are his wife and younger son, the latter a musical composer of note. His older son is in Manila, serving as general manager of his mining properties.

The amazing career of Judge Haussermann—he is "Judge" by virtue of his service as Attorney General of the Philippines—has been the subject of widespread attention in magazines and newspapers over all the world. Some months ago the magazine Fortune described his life in a lengthy article. Under the title "From Romance to Gold," the Wall Street Journal devoted a full page to Judge Haussermann's career in the Philippines. He has been interviewed by leading newspapers in Washington and New York.

Three weeks ago an article in the Enquirer told of his plan to rebuild his ancestral home near New Richmond.

Recently, in an interview, Judge Haussermann, reluctant to talk much about himself, was more than willing to talk about the islands in the Pacific, which he loves and respects and which he regards as his "second home." Since 1915 he has been engaged in the mining business.

CONTROLS TWO MINES

At present he heads and controls two gold mining companies in the Philippines which are conservatively valued at about $56,000,000. Recently he started to mine chromite, the "coming metal" according to industrialists and metallurgists, on account of its industrial and strategic importance.

Judge Haussermann is sanguine about the future of chromite. The United States consumed last year 260,000 tons, of which only about 500 tons were produced here. It is the general belief that the consumption will increase substantially and diversified uses developed as soon as it is known that there is an available supply under the American flag, he said. In the Philippines Haussermann is interested in at least two deposits, one of 300,000 tons of high grade ore and another of 10,000,000 tons of a lower grade, but said to be higher than that produced in Cuba, which is now utilized satisfactorily in refractory materials like brick and cement. The most important use of chromite is an alloy to make steel stainless. It is used also in the dyeing, tanning and pigment industries.

CHROMITE DISCOVERY

The discovery of chromite in the Philippines has produced worldwide repercussions, Judge Haussermann said, but the Japanese are most eager of all to obtain financial control of the industry, as well as the gold mines, manganese and the half billion tons of iron ore deposits in the southern part of the islands.

He also stated that the Japanese are already about to control the Philippine hemp industry, and they have their eyes on other agricultural products which still remain undeveloped, such as rubber, guanine, camphor and forest products. The Japanese are fast displacing the Chinese as distributors and shopkeepers, and, through inadequate protection, Japanese goods are driving American goods from the islands. Judge Haussermann declared. The Filipinos, he said, must be given credit for their readiness to protect American goods effectively, but they were blocked in Washington, probably through a misunderstanding.

Asked about the new Philippine Commonwealth, he said that it is functioning satisfactorily under President Manuel Quezon who, he said, is cleaning up the government, putting it on an efficient basis, and making it serve the best interests of the people. He mentioned that High Commissioner Frank Murphy is the right man in the right place, adding that "all of us are pulling together to make the Philippine Commonwealth a success."

COEQUAL RELATIONSHIP

His belief is that the mutual, vital interests of the United States and the Philippines dictate their remaining together as partners under one flag with the Philippine Commonwealth standard symbolizing Filipino local self-government. He contended that the Filipino people as well as the American people will have to assume that coequal relationship voluntarily in order to give it both validity and stability.

Judge Haussermann pointed out that between the two countries an economic arrangement could be devised easily that would make their economic interests complement each other to their mutual advantage, stressing that the United States is a temperate country and the Philippines a tropical one, which can produce a substantial portion of the tropical raw materials which America now imports from foreign sources.

In ending the interview Judge Haussermann said that the presence of the American flag in the Philippines exerts a stabilizing influence in the Far East; that Japan will not go to war with America over the Philippines, and that the Oriental peoples, numbering more than 1,000,000,000, look to America's Philippine accomplishment as an object lesson of human progress. He also stated that "the Anglo-American cooperation in Far Eastern affairs which exists to-day is a guaranty of tranquility in the Pacific."

PHILIPPINE JULY GOLD RESULTS

General Gain

BENGUET LEADS

All Philippine gold mining records for monthly production again went by the board in July, as the 18 lode properties shipped bullion and concentrates valued at P3,757,208 from a tonnage of 195,809 treated. The production from the two placer properties, Coco Grove and Tambis Gold, was not announced, but probably will run at least P150,000—thus bringing the total to very nearly P4,000,000.

The total production is P158,840 greater than the June figure, which was the best month's work ever done by lode miners in the Philippines up to that time.

One new plant came into production during the month, Big Wedge, and had a very creditable showing, P77,764, for a first month.

THREE NEW HIGHS

Three all-time high monthly figures were set, by Antamok Goldfields, with P531,535; Masbate Consolidated, with P213,861; and San Mauricio, with P161,523.

Included in the Antamok Gold fields production is a small amount produced from ore mined from the Gold Creek mine. The exact amount of this production was not announced.

Two plants, Bagulo, Gold, and Benguet Exploration, had their highest productions of 1936; two others, Cal Barr and Itogon, had their second-highest all-time record.

As usual, the Benguet interests produced the largest percentage of the gold, Balatoc, Benguet Consolidated, Ipo, and Cal Barr accounting for P1,947,328; the Soriano interests were next, Masbate Consolidated, Antamok Goldfields, and IXL, producing P845,481; the Maramba interests being third with P616,151.

BALATOC SURPASSED

It is of interest to note that for the first time since Balatoc has been operating at its present high tonnage, another plant treated more ore in one month, Masbate

EMPLOYEE'S CARD FORGED

China, Light & Power Company Case

UNEMPLOYED GAOLED

"These cards are made specially to protect the public and any forgeries are regarded as very serious," commented Detective Inspector Elston before Mr. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistrate's yesterday, when Wong Kam, unemployed, appeared on remand from Saturday on a charge of the possession of a forged China Light and Power Company employee identification card.

Mr. C. Crofton, Assistant Station Superintendent, was present in Court representing the firm.

Inspector Elston stated that the proprietor of a cafe informed the police that the defendant cut the wires outside the premises and then when the lights fused entered and represented himself as the chief electrician of the China Light and Power Company. He repaired the defect and was paid for the work. On another occasion the defendant produced the identification card to another man and represented himself again as the chief electrician. He promised to get his brother employment on payment of $5 to defendant.

The original card was lost by a genuine employee and the defendant was not at any time employed by the company who viewed the case in serious light.

Insp. Elston added he had been instructed to ask for imprisonment. It was alleged that the frauds had been going on for a long time.

Six weeks' hard labour was passed.

Consolidated handling 38,394 tons. July was also the first month in which any plant in the Islands treated more ore than one of the other of the Benguet operations, since Benguet Consolidated was the largest plant until Balatoc took that title away a few years ago.

The actual production of Suyoc Consolidated was P85,672, but of this P18,000 was stolen as pre-empted on August 2 and so far has not been recovered.

In the United Paracale tonnage and production is included 485 tons of ore which produced P5,942.80 in bullion and concentrate, from the "Rocky Mountain" fraction claim in which the Northern Mining and Development Company is interested.

CROWN LAND SALES

TWO LOTS DISPOSED

At the offices of the Public Works Department yesterday afternoon, two lots of Crown Land at Stubbs Road were put up for public auction, the upset prices being based at 50 cents and 5 cents per square foot. Mrs. Li Po Lun of No. 153, Wongnelchong Road, Happy Valley, was the successful bidder, and secured both the two lots.

The first lot, registered at the Land Office as Inland Lot No. 4785, Stubbs Road has an area of about 21,000 square feet and its annual Crown rental is $248.

The upset price for the lot was $10,800 and this was advanced by bids of $100 until the sum of $12,200 was reached, when Mrs. Li Po Lun became the purchaser.

The lot is to be held from the Crown for a term of 75 years, with the option of renewal for one further term of 75 years.

Special enquiries from the purchaser elicited the news that the new owner intends to use the site for the erection of one house of European type. It is understood that the detailed plans for the lot have not yet been finally decided upon.

THE GARDEN LOT

The second lot, registered at the Land Office as Garden Lot No. 90, Stubbs Road, has an area of about 21,100 square feet and its annual Crown rental is $48. The lot is to be held from the Crown for a term of 21 years, and its upset price is $1,055.

Mr. E. B. Reed, Superintendent of Crown Lands and Surveys conducted the sales.

FALLS TO DEATH

Tragic End Of A Sailor

IN SEARCH OF HIS MONKEY

His love for his pet monkey led to the death of Able Seaman Knight of H.M.S. Dainty, which occurred yesterday morning under tragic circumstances.

The deceased who resided on the third floor of the China Fleet Club was on the parapet shortly after 1 a.m. yesterday in pursuit of his pet monkey which had broken away from him. The deceased was found by another sailor lying seriously injured in Arsenal Street, and although aid was at once summoned, life was extinct. Apparently the deceased lost his balance while on the parapet and crashed to the grounds below, a sheer drop of about 70 feet or more.

THE FUNERAL

The 8th Destroyer Flotilla accorded full Naval Honours at the funeral of the late Christopher Henry Knight, able seaman of the H.M.S. Dainty, at the Roman Catholic Cemetery yesterday. The Rev. Father E. Teruzzi officiated at the graveside.

The firing party supplied by ratings of the H.M.S. Dainty preceded the gun carriage draped with the Union Jack drawn by men of H.M.S. Diana, while the escort party comprised men from H.M.S. Decoy and Defender.

Following a brief service at the Chapel and prayers at the graveside, the firing party fired three volleys, and a bugler of the Royal Marines sounded the "Last Post." The firing party then "presented arms" with fixed bayonets, while the "Reveille" was sounded.

Men from the deceased's ship, H.M.S. Dainty were under the command of Lt. J. E. Smith. An officer from each of the H.M. Ships in port attended the funeral, while the Commodore was represented by his Secretary.

Floral tributes were sent by the following: The Commodore and Officers of the China Station at Hong Kong, The Captain and Officers, H.M.S. Dainty, Chief and Petty Officers, H.M.S. Dainty, Ship's Company, H.M.S. Dainty, The Captain and Ward Room Officers, H.M.S. Decoy, and ship's company, The Captain and Officers, H.M.S. Decoy, H.M.S. Diana, and ship's company.

ECHO OF PEIPING AFFAIR

SOLDIERS BEING SENT HOME

The arrival of the a.s. Yunnan yesterday from the North brought with her Privates Herbert Cooke and Robert Hunt, of the 2nd Battalion, Worcestershire Regiment, the two British soldiers that were alleged to have been involved in the Peiping affair.

It is due to the fear that the Japanese demonstrations in Peiping might lead to serious consequences that the soldiers are being sent quietly home. In all probability they will leave the Colony to-morrow, and in the meantime they will be kept under guard.

At a subsequent inquiry ordered by the General Officer Commanding, Major General A. W. Bartholomew into the circumstances leading to a brawl in a cabaret in which Sasaki, a Japanese national was killed, the two soldiers were able to offer alibis and they were discharged. Subsequently the Japanese Residents' Association held an indignation meeting, at which fiery anti-British speeches were made.

The soldiers, it is understood, upon their arrival in England will be granted their discharge from the army.

feel certain that the hotel's success is assured.

The change in train schedule, which would have made the stay of the many patrons a longer one by two whole hours, was unavoidably held to the old time of departure. There was to be inaugurated, on August 8, a train which would leave Shum Chun at midnight, and arrive in Kowloon shortly before one in the morning. The change, however, might yet be effected at a later date.

SUBSIDIES SAIL THE PACIFIC

Great Britain is now feeling it necessary to give serious attention to the fate of her passenger shipping interests in the Pacific, whose trade between New Zealand, Australia, the United States, Canada and the British colony of Fiji is threatened by severe subsidized competition. That competition comes mainly from the United States.

Americans have good reasons for building up strong services in the Pacific, first, because of their long western coast line and their exclusive services between that coast and Honolulu; and, second, because a large proportion of the passengers and goods carried in the Pacific Ocean is American. There, if anywhere, United States shipping ought to be in a strong position; and the case for a subsidy is more justifiable than elsewhere. It is strengthened by the fact that the cost of building is higher in America than in Britain, and that unless construction subsidies were offered, the United States would be handicapped in the initial task of putting modern vessels on the seas.

But it is desirable that we should understand both sides of the question. The British complain that the American construction subsidies come to much more than the difference in building costs, and that in addition such large operating subsidies are granted that it has now become impossible for British passenger vessels, trading between British Dominions, to stand the strain of competition. The British Government, strongly pressed in the House of Lords and by the shipping concerns, has referred the matter for prompt inquiry to the Imperial Shipping Committee.

It is important to note, however, that the subsidy bill just signed by President Roosevelt aims to smooth out those problems pertaining to building differentials. The new act sets up a Maritime Authority which is empowered to advance building loans to American shipping interests up to 50 per cent of the value of the ship, inclusive of the difference between foreign and the relatively greater American construction costs.

It has to be borne in mind that shipping is more vital to Great Britain than to any other country in the world. A prosperous mercantile marine serving all countries is essential to the export trade upon which her existence depends. She cannot, as most nations can, rely to a great extent upon her own soil, either for food supplies or for raw materials, nor has she any access, except by water, to countries producing them. Therefore, under no circumstances can Britain's policy tolerate the elimination of her ships from the great trading routes, especially those starting from the home country or the Dominions.

It would be a pity in the extreme if two friendly countries like the United States and Britain should waste their resources by competitive artificial aids to their respective shipping services, which would only leave masters for the companies, just where they were. How much better if an arrangement could be come to,

JAPANESE BID FOR FREIGHT

FIRST OF NEW FAST FREIGHTERS ENTERS PORT

Shanghai, Aug. 5.

One of Japan's three new speedy passenger freighters, the M.S. Kagu Maru, of the Kokusai Kaisha Kaisha, put into port from Kobe and Moji shortly after noon on Tuesday on her maiden voyage to Europe, and docked alongside the Wayside Wharf from which she sailed yesterday afternoon. She and the other two freighters, the Kinugasa Maru and the Kashii Maru, were designed not only for Japan's Orient-Europe run but are also a new step forward in swift freight service.

There has been much discussion on the Coast this year as these vessels neared completion, and considerable speculation as to whether their introduction would change freight services. The new ships were built under the encouragement of the Japanese Ministry of Communications with the definite idea of transporting cargoes quickly. The three vessels of the K.K.K. are the forerunners of a number of other ships of the same type that are expected to have their keels laid down within the next few years.

Great speed has been shown in the building of the vessels. The Kinugasa Maru was six months and eighteen days in building, the Kashii Maru, ten months and four days, while the Kagu Maru, Shanghai's visitor, took seven months and nine days from keel laying to completion.

DIMENSIONS OF VESSELS

The Kagu Maru, like her sisters, has a gross tonnage of 5,800 tons, 9,200 tons deadweight capacity. Her overall is 477 feet and between perpendiculars she is 450 feet. She has a width of 61 feet and a loaded draught of 27 feet 6 inches. Her maximum speed is slightly better than 22 miles.

She has comfortable accommodation for twelve passengers, and ample cargo space. Her grain cargo capacity is 593,000 cubic feet, while her bale cargo capacity is 541,000 feet. She has a two stroke, double acting Diesel engine and is classed by Lloyd's Register of Shipping as 100A1. The Kagu Maru will carry most of her cargoes, which on this trip is general, to Continental ports. Among those at which she will call are Hong Kong, Singapore, Port Sudan, Port Said, Alexandria, Marseilles, Casablanca, Antwerp, and Rotterdam, and Hamburg.—(N.C.D.N.)

possibly on the basis of equalizing the costs of construction and of running, but in any case having its end a distribution of the available trade (with sufficient scope for healthy competition) on terms satisfactory to both. In there, not here an opportunity for the two countries to give an example to the world in settling this matter by a common-sense business deal?

SOVIET COURT FINDING

Japan's Contention Rejected

Moscow, Aug. 10.

The Japanese Charge d'Affaires, Mr. Sakoh, visited the assistant Commissar for Foreign Affairs, M. Stomonyakov to-day, and stated that the Japanese Government considers incorrect the finding of the Soviet court against the masters of five Japanese fishing schooners detained on June 29 and 29 at Kamchatka.

Since their arrest, a Japanese investigation has allegedly established that the schooners were detained outside Russian territorial waters.

M. Stomonyakov declined to accept the Japanese demarche declaring the schooners were detained in Russian waters and that the captains of each pleaded guilty to the charge against them.

Mr. Stomonyakov further asked that the Japanese Government take measures to prevent the entrance of Japanese steamers into Soviet waters in future, without authority.—

Gen. Sung Declines To Settle Diplomatic Issues

HOPING FOR DEFINITE NATIONAL POLICY

Peiping, Aug. 4.

"In my opinion, all diplomatic affairs in North China should be dealt with directly by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, and it is not right to have them handled by the local authorities. I have already asked the Japanese authorities to refer all future Sino-Japanese diplomatic issues to the Manchoukuo in Nanking, instead of taking them up with Chinese officials here," declared Gen. Sung Cheb-yuan, Chairman of the Hopei and Chanhai Political Council, when interviewed prior to his departure for Peking this afternoon.

Gen. Sung admitted that Sino-Japanese negotiations in North China had been suspended, because he thought that the nation's diplomatic dealings should be centralized under the Central Government. "It is true that China is a weak nation," he continued, "but there is no reason why we should give away our territorial and sovereign rights simply because our country is weak. We cannot depend on others in the task of national salvation. We must shoulder this heavy responsibility ourselves. I shall do my best to preserve the territorial and administrative integrity of the country, and I mean to keep my word."

He expressed the hope that the Central Government would work

London, August 10.
The German Charge d'Affaires in London, Dr. Bliefeldt, has informed the British Government that no war materials have been sent from Germany to the Spanish insurgents and that none will be sent. Stories that the German battleship Deutschland landed bombs at Ceuta, that a German liner now on her way from Hamburg is carrying bombing aeroplanes to the insurgents and that Germany intends to land marines at Barcelona as demonstration are all denied by Dr. Bliefeldt.

The French proposals for a general agreement of non-intervention in Spain are still under consideration in Berlin, Rome and Lisbon. The British Government, through its diplomatic representatives in these capitals, have strongly supported the French proposals. Although recognizing that the communication made by the German Charge d'Affaires in London does not in itself constitute an official reply to the French demarche, newspapers both in Paris and in London express much satisfaction with Germany's undertaking to associate herself with the first aim of French policy which is fully endorsed by the British Government, namely to prevent either the Spanish Government or their antagonists from acquiring further supplies of munitions of war.—

TENSION RELAXED

Paris, Aug. 10.

Lessening tension in the international situation during the last two days is reflected in the press. "Petit Parisien" points out that the relaxation is due to the French Government's decision not to allow exports of any war materials to Spain.

Although no official reply has yet been received from Portugal, it is expected she will accept France's proposals of non-intervention in Spain in principle.—

SAN MAURICIO'S EXPANSION

FAVOURABLE DEVELOPMENT

Manila, August 7.

The milling capacity of the San Mauricio Mining Company will be raised from 175 to 350 tons a day, and the new enlarged plant, will be in operation by the first of the year, it was announced Tuesday evening, August 4, following a meeting of the board of directors of the company.

Orders are now being placed for the equipment for the expansion, and the preliminary work of laying foundations, etc., will be started at once.

This action results from extremely favourable development work underground at San Mauricio, in which the 1290 winze has reached the 300 elevation of the north section of the mine. This winze is opening up a good width of vein averaging $10 and $12 a ton (old price of gold) and, a sub-level from this section is developing exceptionally high grade ore, J. B. Stapler, manager of the Southern division of Marsman & Co., announced, recently on his arrival from Paracale.

The main shaft is being sunk below the 300 level, and will be continued. On the 300 level station, pump sumps and general arrangements have been completed, and the main crosscut is being driven to the vein.

A site for the new main operating shaft has been chosen, and work has been started on the project. It will be a standard three-compartment shaft, and will be sunk to the 500 level immediately.

Ore is being taken to the mill at present through the present working shaft.

The location of the new shaft is between the present shaft and the mill. Earlier delivery of the increased tonnage will be made possible by this shaft, which will have a steel head frame, and more adequate storage facilities than the present one.

Shanghai, August 6.

Acting on information furnished by the Shanghai and Woosung Garrison Commission, S. M. Police took into custody from Monday night last early yesterday morning seven men who, according to the Chinese military authorities, were suspected of being members of the gang responsible for the attempt on the life of Mr. Wang Ching-wei and Mr. T. ## OPTIMISTIC REPORTS FROM BOTH CAMPS

"Victory Only A Question Of Days"

FALL OF INSURGENTS PREDICTED

Government Gains In Balearic Isles

(Hong Kong Daily Press Special)

Paris, August 10.

News from both the Spanish camps is curiously optimistic. The Madrid government reports that the fortification of the positions occupied by its forces in Sierra Guadarrama are now completed, and that the "struggle against the enemy has been organised."

According to the Madrid Government, "its victory is only a question of days." The positions of the towns, Saragossa, Huesca, Oviedo—all of which are held by the insurgents—are described by the Madrid Government as "hopeless" and their "imminent fall" predicted.

Marxist militia, in the same report, is said have taken the town of Leon, while the Government forces are alleged to be gaining ground in the Balearic Isles.

NATIONALIST CLAIMS

As against the optimism of this report the nationalist army headquarters declared that General Franco's planned campaign is being "methodically carried out" and that the shipment of troops from Africa continues without interruption.

It is added that nationalist troops are amply provided with ammunition and that General Franco has an important air force at his disposal. The town of Lloria del Rio, in southern Spain, is reported from the same source, to have been captured by insurgents, and on the other hand it is stated that the offensive of General Mola's troops along the line, from Iru to San Sebastian in north-western Spain, is "imminent."

Casualties of the Marxists are asserted to amount to upwards of 100 killed and 300 wounded, and they are further said to have lost some five hundred in prisoners. The nationalists are credited with having captured five guns, 25 machine guns and upwards of fifty trucks.

THE DAVIS CUP

A. K. Quist's Grand Challenge

London, July 30.

Whether Australia or Germany come through at Wimbledon to challenge Great Britain we shall always remember Saturday's wind-swept struggle between A. K. Quist and G. Von Cramm as one of the grandest matches ever played for the Davis Cup. Thirteen times in a match that lasted for nearly three hours; one of the other—von Cramm 10 times—had been within a stroke of victory; each man wrought miracles when defeat was at hand; but it could not go on for ever, and after many a roar from the crowded stands of No. 1 Court von Cramm won in the twentieth game of the fifth set by 4-0, 6-4, 4-6, 6-1, 11-9—a truly remarkable score for a match that no one will forget. Before that J. H. Crawford in a pitiless half-hour against H. Henkel, of Germany, had won the first two sets by 6-2, 6-3 when Henkel, not fully recovered from a recent chill, retired.

So Australia and Germany came to today's doubles match in the Inter-Zone final with honours easy and hope still high. Whoever wins it, much—perhaps everything—for Germany—is going to depend upon the first singles, to-morrow between Quist and Henkel, and how splendidly it would be were Crawford and von Cramm left to fight it out in the last match of all. Saturday's need for Germany was desperate, for it so narrowly prevented an Australian victory that still remains probable from being made into a certainty.

GALLANT DEFIANCE

When all has been written (and everything cannot be moved) about the vivid movement, the swift-changing crises, and all the gallant defiance of the match between von Cramm and Quist, the lasting wonder will be that from a time beginning they could reach the heights of the game in such an angry wind. It tore in gusts over the open side of the court diagonally across the backhand corners and buffeted round the enclosure with such force that the ball at times might have been a cork on the wave. It was soon clear that von Cramm was to no more disturbed than Quist. For all the speed of his strokes his drives were high through the air, and because he likes to stand firm and take time he found in the middle of his swing the ball could be disconcerting, ly deflected after the bound. But where von Cramm through waiting made a match, push, and scramble Quist was always moving in to the ball, took it much earlier than his adversary, and generally, had the heavier, less risky strokes.

There was more in it than that, however, for at last on an English court we saw Quist live up to his renown as champion of Australia. On a still day, one felt, Quist's challenge would have been even more spirited; and as it was, with von Cramm in such dire trouble early in the match, he might well have won in three sets but for a mishap which befell him in a year that has been conspicuous for accidents. In the first game of the second set Quist wrenched his right ankle sharply in running for a wide return. An anxious group gathered round; we had thoughts of another bloodless victory to cancel out the first; but in a few moments Quist could go on, naturally a little diffidently at first, while von Cramm raced into a lead of five games to one. Even then Quist gave us a taste of the brave fight he was to make to the end by saving four set points (as von Cramm had done in the first set) and winning three games—enough to make von Cramm thank his lucky stars to get out of the net alive.

VON CRAMM'S ANXIETY

Events crowded so thickly in the end that little can be said about those first four sets, full of sixes and fours, which found the player dead level in games when the fifth was entered upon. On the day both in strokes and methods one thinks of Quist as the better player. There was a deep severity about his forehand drive to the corners that von Cramm never had; his service, especially from the forehand court, could either beat von Cramm altogether or force him so wide into that an answering backhand volley into space won many an anxious point; his backhand was firm and full of spin; and no short lob could live with the power of Quist's smash. Which is not to suggest that von Cramm could not make many of the wide, flashing drives that have brought him victories over all the world's great players. Sometimes when Quist came in with volleying notions he was beaten by backhand shots that sped low and fast across his path, and Quist soon learned that it was of little use merely to block his volleys back against a man so fast. But von Cramm for a long time unquestionably was in trouble. The wind often made a mockery of his worried search for the vicies of the lines; and his service, frequently prone to the shock of the foot-fault, did not come to its strength until it was a matter of do or die. That much was seen from Quist's ability to win each of his two sets by taking von Cramm's service.

Quist came back from the brief interval with his ankle strapped and a lead of two sets to one. For a time it was tough and go in the fourth set when Quist led by three games to two, but von Cramm maintained a calm serenity which was to bring him through in the end. Excitement grew tense as the fifth set, in which Quist, as in all the others, served first, wore on. The wind blustered and brought up swirling clouds of dust, and it was hardly surprising that Quist, who had been in physical discomfort, should appear to tire first. In a game full of weak strokes—or strong ones by von Cramm—he lost his service and von Cramm, serving splendidly in the next game, was ahead by five games to three. The interest then lay in whether the score could be made to look nicely uniform by another 6-4 set, but things began to happen.

THIRTEEN MATCH-POINTS

Quist survived two match-points in the ninth game, one with a lob that von Cramm returned with a stroke that would have won any match but this. Then von Cramm served; three more match-points could not be won; Quist was level; Quist, happy fighter, was ahead, and the continued to lead by the odd game with von Cramm resolutely serving himself level until the fateful sixteenth game, when three chances came and went. In this game von Cramm served; the score was 6-40 and only the wind roared. First a drive of von Cramm's hit the tape and dropped dead. So by a thread's breadth can matches be won and lost. There was nothing irrefutable about it all. The strokes of both men, drives and volleys, were magnificent; but von Cramm will never know now in the end he cut off a passing shot on the volley as it was speeding to an Australian victory. Even then the fight went on and the watchers cheered. Von Cramm, now serving for his life, brought Quist back once more; Quist at the net might have been a brick wall, but somehow von Cramm passed him and was ahead at last. And to the twentieth game, in which, what with the net-cord saving Quist and Quist astonishingly saving himself, von Cramm needed another five match-points before he made an ending. Truly nobody should have lost a match like that.

All the excitement, however, could not make us forget that no player had more masterly control in the trying wind than Crawford, whose strokes, surely the heaviest in the game, were not disturbed in the least. He hit the lines as he used to hit them, served his aces, and came down on his volleys with unerring power. Henkel clearly was not fit enough to stand up to all; there could be little doubt about the result if he had been. Possibly K. Lund will take Henkel's place in the doubles match at 2 o'clock to-day.

AUSTRALIA WIN THE DOUBLES

London, July 31.

Australia gained their expected doubles victory over Germany in the Inter-Zone final of the Davis Cup competition at the All-England Club yesterday, and they will come to the last two singles matches to-day with a lead of two victories to one. It should be sufficient to make them the challengers against Great Britain at the end of the week.

But somehow under grey clouds on No. 1 Court yesterday the spirit of the fight seemed to have flagged. A. K. Quist, who put up such a brave challenge for Australia on Saturday, could not play because the ankle that gave way then now crippled him, and his place as partner to J. H. Crawford was taken by V. B. McGrath. Quist, indeed, was on crutches, and it is extremely improbable that he will be able to play the opening singles match to-day against H. Henkel, himself a sick man a few days ago. There could, of course, be few happier choices of a substitute than McGrath, who until recently always played the singles matches with Crawford; but Quist, after all, is the Australian champion, and if his country win through to Saturday's Challenge Round, as they still should, one can only hope that his injury will have mended by then. There never has been such a year for distressing accidents.

AN UNEVENTFUL MATCH

K.C.C. MATCH

The "B" team of the Kowloon Cricket Club lost to the "A" team in the doubles matches played yesterday afternoon.

S. A. Gray and Mrs. MacLean ("B") beat E. C. Fincher and Mrs. Goodwin 6-4; lost to E. F. Fincher and Miss Griffiths 3-6; beat G. Bodiker and Miss MacKenzie 6-2.

G. C. Burnett and Mrs. Stokes ("B") lost to E. C. Fincher and Mrs. Goodwin 3-6; lost to Fincher and Miss Griffiths 2-6; lost to Bodiker and Miss MacKenzie 3-6.

insistent theme running through the contest; out of 11 sets so far played eight have ended with the same figures. It was by no means a colourful match, or even a very good one, but rather full of honest sound play accomplished with a preoccupied air by all save the bland McGrath, who in the end was the best player of the tour. The score gives a false suggestion of a particularly level struggle, since a 6-4 set is supposed to be anybody's set. Yet only one, the second which Germany won, was level at four games all; in each of the other three sets Australia had won the important service game of their adversaries sufficiently early to be ahead by five games to three.

That is not to say that Germany were a beaten side all through, even if one felt that Crawford and McGrath always had something in reserve that would be too good for Crawford's service, for example, was a match winner both in power and the openings it made for McGrath's volleys. Crawford never lost his service; only once, at 15-40 in the fourth game of the fourth set, did he look like doing so. Perhaps the severest blow to Germany, however, was the inconsistent play of von Cramm. Usually in a doubles he is the keen, incisive first-string, making the chalk fly with his service and leaping into untouchable volleys. There were, of course, some strokes of the von Cramm brand; but apart from a general lack of inspiration and service power there were times when his low volleys, especially on the backhand, were positively bad.

So Henkel, with a strangely subdued leader, had to shoulder more than his share of the burden; some of his softly deft angles of drive and volley were the more surprising for the frequency with which he missed the easy ball. Crawford saw to it that Henkel was given plenty to do overhead, and it was not long before his high volleys were failing him. More serious was the fact that, though Henkel could serve his aces with his first ball, his second was so weak that it could be murdered, particularly by McGrath with his double-fisted backhand.

Only one brief interlude of rain when von Cramm had lost his service in the first game of the third set held up the match. He had lost it with a double-fault in the first set to give the Australians all they wanted, even though he saved three set points when next he served. All through play was too loosely knit on both sides to reach the heights. On the whole Crawford and McGrath had the advantage both in service and return of service to give them the all-important volleying command, and what was McGrath increasing in strength of drive and volley all the time and serving an ace for the last point, a rather formal affair was soon over.

TO-DAY'S ORDER OF PLAY

2.30 p.m.—A. K. Quist or V. B. McGrath (Australia) v. H. Henkel (Germany), followed by J. H. Crawford (Australia) v. G. von Cramm (Germany).

OUR LONDON LETTER

Gossip Of The Week

London, July 26.
When the King unveils the Vimy Ridge Memorial on Sunday he will be standing on ground which has been given to Canada in perpetuity. This has given rise to an interesting question of formality. The Canadian speakers have so far been unable to determine whether they will be delivering their addresses on French or British soil. Consequently, they are uncertain whether, in their opening remarks, they should address the King or the French President first.

Mr. Ian A. Mackenzie, Minister of National Defence, and Mr. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, are to be among the Canadian speakers. If, when the King is at Vimy, he is actually on Canadian soil, his Canadian Ministers will take precedence over all other officials.

One solution would be for the French speakers to address the King first and for the Canadian to address the President first. But this would beg the main question.

ENCOURAGING BREVITY

IN M.P.s.
Last week I noted the success of the private arrangement Scottish M.P.s made among themselves to limit their speeches to 15 minutes during the debate on the Scottish Office vote.

As a result of that arrangement 23 out of a total of 74 Scottish M.P.s were able to make speeches.

To-day Mr. Henderson Stewart is going to call the attention of the Prime Minister to the success of the plan. Mr. Baldwin will not be able to bless Mr. Henderson Stewart's idea of revising standing orders to make such limitations compulsory.

He will, however, be able to urge all M.P.s to follow the example of brevity set by the Scots.

Such an appeal would be timely just before the defence debate. In spite of the number of defence debates there have been this summer, the list of M.P.s anxious to speak is still a long one.

A WAY THEY HAD IN THE ARMY

To-day's debate may produce some criticism of the apparent slowness in co-ordinating the defence forces.

It may console Sir Thomas Inskip's critics, however, to realise that his big task is likely to be achieved quicker than was the unification of the control of the Army.

There was no Secretary of State for War until 1794—134 years after the establishment of a standing army.

Until then the British soldier was led by the Treasury and armed by the Ordnance Board. The Board of General Officers clothed him, the Home Secretary controlled his movements in this country, and the Colonial Secretary once he left England. Meanwhile, the Secretary-at-War paid him and was responsible for the rough outlines of his discipline.

It was only with the Crimea that the Secretary of State for War swallowed up the office of the Secretary-at-War, though he was not master in his own house until 1895, when the post of Commander-in-Chief was abolished.

PRIME MINISTER'S FORECAST

Mr. Baldwin began his speech at Cardiff with a political forecast. He said that the Government's opponents would be out of office "probably for another five years to come."

If this is to be taken literally it means that the Prime Minister anticipates a victory for the National Government at the next General Election.

The latest date at which this can be held is the autumn of 1940. On the analogy of other post-war Parliaments, it is unlikely that the present Parliament will run to the end of its full term.

The late Parliament lasted four years. If that precedent is followed, the next General Election will take place in 1939. This will be two years before Mr. Baldwin's forecast can claim to be justified by the event.

SPAIN'S "FOREIGN" LEGION

Unlike its French counterpart, the Spanish Legion is not often—as now—in the news.

Though at one time shortly after the war it tried to attract foreigners, and was recruiting British ex-service men in London, nowadays about 90 per cent. of its 2,000 men are Spaniards.

Portuguese and South Americans make up the foreign element in the ranks. There are a few Russian and German officers.

"Tough and first-class fighting material" was the opinion of an expert recently gave me after he had visited their quarters at Tetuan.

There the Legion is practically self-supporting—an important advantage in a crisis such as the present. It has acres of kitchen garden and herds of cattle.

GUARDING NEW YORK BROKERS

My photograph to-day shows the new uniform of the 88 armed guards employed by the New York Stock Exchange. It is of greenish-khaki hue.

Despite its martial appearance, the Stock Exchange corps has a pacific record. It was formed after the explosion of a bomb which killed 36 people outside the Wall Street premises of J. P. Morgan in 1920. But it does not owe its origin entirely to the unsettled conditions of that period.

At about that time the Stock Clearing Corporation was established. Contracts made on the floor of the exchange were thereafter cleared and settled in the basement, and protection had to be provided for securities handled in this connection.

There has never been a "hold-up" at the exchange. The only occasion in recent years on which the guards have appeared in the news was during the 1934 strike when they prevented pickets from gaining admission to the "sacred precincts."

Their normal duties, like those of the entirely unarmoured janitors of the London Stock Exchange, are to act as doorknobs and ushers, and to see that only members get on to the floor.

SOVIET NO. 1. PILA

I hear that Michael Gromoff, the Soviet's best all-round pilot, is shortly to attack the long-distance record for straight-line flights.

It was Gromoff who recently made some very complimentary remarks about the skill of R.A.F. pilots after the Hendon pageant. He knows what he is talking about. Shy, simple and enormously tall, Gromoff first saw active service in the Tsarist air force. He has tested nearly all the principal new machines produced by the State Aerohydrodynamic Institute.

Foreigners who have worked with him say that in a land where pilots are apt to be heavy-handed, it is a joy to fly with Gromoff. He handles the biggest bomber as if it were a tiny sports car.

HIS EMBASSY 500 MILES AWAY

Sir Hugh Knatchbull-Hugessen, our new Ambassador to China, is leaving shortly to take up his post. This is earlier than was originally intended, owing presumably to the diplomatic situation in the Far East.

He will have difficulties besides those of diplomacy to contend with. When he presents his letters of credence to the Chinese Government at Nanking he will still be 500 miles from his Embassy in Peking.

The Ambassador has a house in the present Chinese capital. But it is a small one. Peking still remains the Ambassador's headquarters, where the majority of his staff live and records are kept.

Our Ambassador in Turkey used to be in the same dilemma. His Embassy was at Constantinople, the Government to which he was accredited at Angora. The change-over was made some years ago.

The Foreign Office has now, I understand, decided on a similar step in China. But it will cost a good deal of time and money before the move can be made.

WHY M. TITULESCU IS LATE

Many of the Montreux delegates are indignant that the new Straits Convention cannot be signed until 10 o'clock to-night. The reason is that M. Titulescu, travelling in his special coach from Bucharest, will not reach Montreux until this evening.

Suggestions that the Rumanian Foreign Minister might well come by a shorter route met with the reply this would involve changing trains and leaving his special coach en route.

The coach is an elaborate affair with well furnished sleeping quarters, a drawing room, kitchen and dining room. M. Titulescu's refusal to leave it is not, however, due to love of luxury.

He is one of the most carefully protected of statesmen. With his "special" travels his own mechanic, who at every halt makes a thorough examination of the coach, even inspecting the grease-boxes.

THE FRINTON FINALS

THREE VICTORIES FOR MISS STAMMERS

London, July 26.
The finals of the Frinton tournament on Saturday were spoiled by the wind, which blew with a fury that made strokes and intentions almost futile. In spite of the unpleasant conditions, however, Miss K. E. Stammers was a threefold winner and had the outstanding power to hit through a wind which, while baffling her opponents considerably, steered the ball across court to her forehead. She was playing with more certainty and control than at any time in the tournament.

In the singles Oxford beat Cambridge when A. M. Cuninggim beat R. J. Ritchie very easily. Ritchie showed early on that he disliked the conditions, and his dislike increased as the match progressed. His opponent, on the other hand, was less affected and accepted the occasional odd behaviour of the ball as all in the day's work. Ritchie could not settle down in service, ground strokes, or volleys, and made many mistakes which were far too great a handicap. Cuninggim's strokes were always more likely to beat the wind and his robust play at all points soon carried him to an easier victory than he could have anticipated.

RITCHIE'S MISTAKES

Taking full advantage of Ritchie's many mistakes and playing soundly, particularly on the backhand, Cuninggim led by five games to one in the first set. Ritchie then won two games, and interest temporarily revived, but he lost his service in the next game and Cuninggim won the set with a lob that, considering the conditions, was a masterpiece. Ritchie clearly did not care much what happened in the second set, and after winning the third game with some good forehand cross-court drives he retreated precipitately, not, however, before serving two aces to save match points when he might have been trying to end the match with a double fault.

In the women's singles Miss Stammers beat the holder, Mrs. J. B. Pittman, also in straight sets, and owed much to the fact that she is left-handed. The ladies found it particularly difficult to control their strokes, but Miss Stammers was by far the happier against an opponent who found it almost impossible to place the ball to her backhand. Against the wind she had such excellent control that she could vary her length and direction at will.

Miss Stammers won the first set with the loss of one game, and, strangely enough, as in the singles, this set was won by a lob. Miss Stammers' progress in the second set seemed likely to be equally rapid when she led by three games to none, but then she faltered a little and Mrs. Pittman took every chance then given her to draw level. Miss Stammers held a long service game of varying fortunes to lead in the ninth game, and then broke through her opponent's service to close with a return to all her former accuracy, and power.

The final results were:—SINGLES.—A. M. Cuninggim beat R. J. Ritchie (6-3, 6-1).

WOMEN'S SINGLES.—Miss K. E. Stammers beat Mrs. J. B. Pittman (6-1, 6-4).

DOUBLES.—A. M. Cuninggim and R. J. Ritchie beat A. P. Weidmann and J. A. S. Collins (6-4, 6-4).

WOMEN'S DOUBLES.—Miss K. E. Stammers and Mrs. J. B. Pittman beat Miss A. E. L. McCoskitch and Miss A. A. Wright (6-4, 6-2).

MIXED DOUBLES.—R. J. Ritchie and Miss K. E. Stammers beat G. Thompson and Miss A. A. Wright (6-2, 6-3).

During the week-end I was shown a list of tours of London and the Home Counties which has been produced in German by an enterprising firm. But some of its information is a little surprising.

Sightseers are promised a glimpse of the "mounted guard in Trafalgar-square." In a tour to the "Jewish quarter" they will see "little Italy" and visit "a typical public house in the working quarter."

Elton, "where the sons of the leading families study," is described. Nine "famous Eltonians" are mentioned.

The list includes Byron, who was at Harrow, Captain Scott, who was not at Elton, Prince Nicholas of Yugoslavia—presumably meaning Prince Nicholas of Rumania—and Prince Henry, uncle of the King.

WORLD PEACE CAMPAIGN

Women's Manifesto

LEADERS OF SEVEN COUNTRIES

London, July 26.
The following manifesto, signed by women leaders of seven countries, has been issued:—

"We are living in times overshadowed by the menace of war, which every day becomes more threatening. The peoples everywhere, now increasingly apprehensive, and in every country the mothers are tortured by dread that their children may be called upon to endure the horrors of another war, made infinitely more terrible than any in the past by the preverted use of scientific knowledge and technical research. When Lord Cecil and other well-known leaders, anxious to avert disaster, made their world-wide appeal for an international peace campaign many millions of women were ready to respond, for they knew that the mere desire for peace, mere lip-service to an ideal, is not enough; that there must be incessant striving for its attainment."

"For that reason we urgently appeal to women in every country, the manual and intellectual workers both in town and country, the housewives, teachers, mothers of families, without distinction of class, religious belief, or political allegiance, to work in co-operation by every means in their power for the success of the World Peace Congress at Geneva early in September, 1936."

SALE OF A GIRL

WOMEN IN COURT

Three women were charged before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Court yesterday with taking part in a transaction for the transfer of a minor for a valuable consideration. The names of the defendants were Lo Ngan Kwai, 22, Li Sze, 50, and So Yee, 42. The name of the minor was Lau Wai Tsan, alias Loi Ho, aged 15. The charge referred to No. 191, Lockhart Road, the time of the alleged transaction being April 24, this year.

Mr. W. A. Brown appeared for the third defendant.

Inspector Ellis of the S.C.A. stated that sometime in 1934 the girl was sold to the brother of a woman named Chan Sum, in Sanwul city. Early that year she was brought down to Hong Kong and on April 24, she was sold to So Yee for $130, who stated that the girl was to be the wife of her cousin. The first and second defendants acted as go-betweens and received $5 and $8 each respectively. Chan Sum was the actual seller of the girl, but she had been certified as a leper.

Chan Sum and So Yee when they went into the box both stated that the girl had been bought on the understanding that she would become the wife of So Yee's cousin.

The first and second defendants were fined $50 or six weeks. The third defendant was convicted but her sentence was deferred until the close of another case wherein she is charged with one, Chan Suk Yin, with the further transfer of the girl on July 22, this year at No. 6, Triangle Street.

The hearing for that case was fixed for August 27. Mr. A. el Arcull appears for Chan Suk Yin.
